

Stand Mortals!

We call ourselves the Q!

I welcome all to witness the marriage of these two humans, _____ and _____.

The Q continuum has become quite interested in the ridiculous tradition of marriage and I have come to officiate this primitive human ceremony. Though it may be tedious, I ask you to refrain from leaving or falling asleep.

Reflections on the couple

In studying the institution of marriage, the Q have studied this couple — in particular _____ & _____. These two met on your primitive communication matrix you call the internet. They were bonded by their love of video games and all things geeky and nerdy, as well as their love for one another. Early on, they knew they would be spending the rest of their lives together. They serve as a prime example of What you humans call love and commitment, which is why the Q have chosen them.

Reflections on marriage

As the Q have studied the tradition of marriage, we have learned much about how humans live with one another; and frankly, I find it disturbing. So much sharing and co-dependence. Why would you agree to such a thing?

To Bride & Groom: Don't you realize you'll be sharing each other's space, eating the same food and breathing the same air?

Forever?

Does that not... repulse you?

Bride & Groom:: Us — no.

Well, if you are quite sure — then it is time to state your vows and sign away your freedom.

If you must... please step forward and take each other's hands.

Vows

Now then, mon capitan, Does your heart beat only for this woman?

Groom: "Yes"

Officiant: And will you swear to join with her and stand with her against All who would oppose you?

Groom: "I swear, make it so"

Ma Cherie, Does your heart beat only for this man?

Bride: "Yes"

And will you swear to join with him and stand with him against All who would oppose you?

Bride: "I swear"

And don't you have something to give each other?

Which of you mortals has the rings?

If you must — you may now exchange your rings.

Rings

Groom : Take this ring as a token of my undying love and affection. I promise to share everything with you, which is including, but not limited to, my video games, DVDs and board games. I promise to care for you when you are sick and be by your side through any challenge.

Bride: Take this ring as a token of my undying love and affection. I promise to share everything with you, which is including, but not limited to, my video games, dvds and board games. I promise to care for you when you are sick and be by your side through any challenge. May the odds be ever in your favor and may you live long and prosper.

Kiss

Officiant: You two mortals may kiss one another (yawn)... if you wish.
(kiss)

You are out of order!

Presentation

On behalf of the Q continuum, you are now condemned to make the best of your miserable and savage lives together as husband and wife.
